ILLINOIS JOINING FORCES

Illinois Joining Forces (IJF) is a network of public and not-for-profit organizations working together to improve services to Illinois' military and veteran communities.

IJF's goal is to increase awareness and connectivity among member organizations so that they, and those they serve, can better navigate the system of support – ultimately creating a “no wrong door” approach.

IJF is organized into Working Groups focused on particular veteran issues – such as employment and job training, legal support, and behavioral health – and can serve as a valuable resource for VWG members and their employees.

Legal Support Working Group

The Legal Support Working Group is committed to ensuring that veterans and service members have the support they need in civil legal matters and the criminal justice system.

Our focus areas include:

- Fielding requests for assistance with civil legal matters received by IJF, triaging these requests, and making referrals to appropriate legal providers;
- Developing Military/Veteran 101 Training Sessions for the Civil/Criminal Justice community members who will be better prepared to offer informed services to veterans and service members in need of assistance;
- Working to expand Veterans Treatment Courts (VTC) in strategically identified jurisdictions across the state.

Intake and Referral for Civil Legal Matters

- Requests received through IJF
- Assessment and determination of eligibility for services
- Outreach to appropriate referral resources to assist

Education and Training

- Identifying intersection of civil practice and military issues
- Providing cultural competency in matters related to military service

Veterans' Treatment Courts

- An effective means of addressing criminal matters affecting veterans
- Developing in Illinois under VTC statute; in 11 counties, more planned
- Reduces costs and recidivism in criminal justice system.
